

General Terms and Conditions

These Terms and Conditions are applied to all offers, orders and agreements with All-American Sports. Terms and Conditions (including Terms of delivery and payment, are accepted by the customer as soon as an order is placed. All-American Sports has the right to change these conditions at all times. Changed conditions will be effective from the moment a new order is placed. Possible General Terms and Conditions of customers are explicitly rejected.

Terms of delivery and payment

Unless otherwise agreed to, the maximum time of delivery is 30 days. Whenever the delivery time isn't realizable, All-American Sports will give timely notice and offer to undo the agreement or agree on a new delivery time. When an agreement is ended, already paid amounts will be transferred back within 30 days.

All-American Sports isn't liable for any loss or damage of packages and products after the moment an order has been shipped. Payments are made in advance, unless otherwise agreed on.

Returns

If you wish to return a product you can do so within 7 days after delivery. Before a product is returned the customer has to inform All-American Sports. The package and the product have to be complete, undamaged and without use-marks. All costs considering a return shipment have to be paid by the customer. All-American Sports is not responsible for lost package(s). The right to return a product within 7 days, doesn't apply to custom orders. When payment of returned goods has been made, the amount of the payment minus the cost of shipping will be transferred back within 30 days.

When returning a product, please specify your name, address, number en date of invoice.

Return shipments have to be send to:

All- American Sports
Returned Products
Postbus 67
5144 AA WAALWIJK
THE NETHERLANDS

Right of Proprietary

All (intellectual) proprietary rights considering this website, including software, texts, images and sounds, remains in All- American Sports and/or in the person who or the company that cooperated in building this website in our charge. Without written permission of All-American Sports, it's not allowed to make public, copy or make changes to any content of this website other than for personal use.

Reserves

All- American Sports reserves the right to review each order and to decide if it will be delivered. When making a decision, we make use of information regarding payments of the customer, our own judgement and other specific sources of information. If more information is needed, All-American Sports will contact the customer.

All- American Sports reserves the right to undo an agreement and not deliver products that are not in stock.

All- American Sports reserves the right to attach specific conditions when executing an order, like requiring an advanced payment.

Excluded liability

The content of this website has been composed with great care. However All- American Sports can't guarantee the source, correctness or content of this information. All- American Sports isn't liable for any possible misprints and errors nor for the consequences of using the specific information.

Disputes

To all possible disputes Dutch law is applied. All disputes will be presented to a judge competent by Dutch law. Before doing so All-American Sports and the customer will do whatever they can to solve a dispute between themselves.